

2019 Vermentino
Mahoney Vineyard
Carneros

Best known for producing high acid, fleshy, refreshing wines coming out of coastal Italy. Many would argue that is at least almost as well known for denser, skin fermented versions from the warmer Italian interior. At least everyone can agree, whatever the style, the wines are always fresh, lively and delicious. Our humble first attempt is fermented and aged in Stainless Steel in an effort to capture that vibrancy and quaffability of the coastal Italian efforts. The shallow gravelly and silty soils of the Carneros Appellation protect the windy bay side hills of the area, enabling the grapes to hang longer and develop more intensity of flavor at relatively low alcohol levels.
